background image issue I'm trying to make a tableview with different UITableViewCell's have static image's on the background in the order. For example: Content1: Content2: Content3: As you can see I'm using the same UIView but a different image. The image should be displayed from left to right and I'm currently aligning them to the left. I have setup the labels and the constraints to where it's centered in the cell but I'm having a hard time figuring out how to get the images to have the same distance from the left. At the moment the left images are spacing more and are closer to the right side of the cell, when the table should look like. Is there a way to do this? A: If you wanna resize your cell, you can do it in `UITableViewDelegate` like this.

if (indexPath.row == 0) { //First cell //row CGRect screenSize = [[UIScreen mainScreen] bounds]; CGFloat maxWidth =
    screenSize.size.width;
    cell.backgroundColor = [
